6. Aim & Objectives:	World Animal Day is celebrated on 4th October annually with a social movement charged with the Mission of raising the status of animals in order to improve welfare standards around the globe. According to the website of World Animal Day, the main aim is to raise the status of animals and help improve welfare standards across the globe. It is also about uniting the animal welfare movement and mobilising it into a global force to make the world a better place for all animals. "It's celebrated in different ways in every country, irrespective of nationality, religion, faith, or political ideology. Through increased awareness and education, we can create a world where animals are always recognised as sentient beings and full regard is always paid to their welfare,

The Context:

- every year on October 4th, we celebrate World Animal Day.
- This is a day when we come together to appreciate all the animals that share our world.
- It's a day for remembering how important animals are to us, and for raising awareness about the ways in which we can help protect them.
- It's also a day for celebrating their beauty and their uniqueness.

- So how can you get involved in World Animal Day? There are lots of ways!
- You can visit your local zoo, or go for a walk in the park to see the animals there.
- You can make a donation to an animal charity, or volunteer at an animal shelter.
- No matter how you choose to celebrate, make sure you take some time today to appreciate the animals that make our world so special.

Objectives of the Practice:-

1. Every year, on October 4th, we celebrate World Animal Day.
2. This is a day to commemorate and appreciate the animals that share our world.
3. There are so many reasons why we should celebrate animals. For one, they play a vital role in our ecosystems.
4. They help to control pests, recycle waste, and disperse pollen. Plus, they provide us with companionship, love, and entertainment.
5. So why not take some time today to celebrate the animals in your life?
6. Go for a walk in the park, visit your local zoo, or simply spend some time playing with your pet.
7. Whatever you do, make sure to take some time to enjoy the amazing creatures that make our world so special.

The practice:-

1. Visit an animal shelter and spend some time with the animals there.
2. Pledge to never buy products that have been tested on animals.
3. Volunteer at an animal rescue center.
4. Spread the word about World Animal Day on social media using the hashtag #WAD2023.
5. Make a donation to an animal charity or sanctuary.
6. Adopt an animal from a shelter or rescue center.
7. Buy cruelty-free cosmetics and products.
